What is consent?

A "contractual agreement whereby a client agrees to submit to certain interventions or procedures to be carried out by the occupational therapist, who in turn agrees to perform the specified intervention or procedures within the limitation and under the conditions set down by both parties"

- Obtaining Consent Guideline

The process of obtaining consent involves

Establishing trust

- Promoting client involvement Respecting self-determination
- Enabling client's informed decisions
- Respecting client representation

• Advancing safe, ethical, competent care

Who gives consent?

- The client directly gives consent, unless:
- OT determines client is incapable and, instead, obtains consent from a committee, representative, advance directive, or temporary substitute decision maker (TSDM)
- $\boldsymbol{\diamondsuit}$ If none of the above are available, then the OT must contact the Public Guardian and Trustee (PGT)

QUALITY PRACTICE WEBINARS

How do I determine capability to give consent?

A client is $\ensuremath{\textbf{capable}}$ of giving consent if they are able to:

• understand the information that is relevant to making a decision regarding services, including how it applies to his/her situation.

• appreciate the reasonable foreseeable consequences of a decision or lack of decision.
